

EARN YOUR MPH

WHILE MAINTAINING A FULL-TIME CAREER

through the

Master of Public Health for Health Professionals Program in Health Promotion & Education

The UCLA Fielding School of Public Health

is an internationally recognized leader in public health education. Classes are taught by faculty who are leaders in both public health research and practice.

Complete your degree in 2 years by attending classes one weekend per month!*

This 2 year program is intended to be fast paced and demanding, but within a student centered and supportive environment.

Some months may include two weekends per month*

For more information, visit www.ph.ucla.edu/mphhp

Department of Community Health Sciences
650 Charles E Young Drive South
Los Angeles, CA 90095

(310) 794-7500
mphhp@ucla.edu
mphhp.ph.ucla.edu